VALENCIAS READJUST SKYROCKET PRICES

The sky-rocket market on Valencia oranges reached its peak last week and the readjustment of selling prices then set in. The condition of the market in some localities naturally caused a cry of profiteering throughout the east, where the influenza epidemic suddenly multiplied the demands for citrus fruit beyond all previous experience.

In some quarters the food administration officials took the matter in hand, but in all cases found there was no attempt at profiteering upon the part of the growers or shippers, who have been distributing the remainder of the smallest crop on record in an equitable manner among all of the markets of the country. Instead of pinching off supplies at one point to force higher prices, it is of record that the middle-west and southwest particularly were reduced in their supplies in order to divert the extra cars of oranges into the stricken centers where the demand was the greatest. In fact Philadelphia received double the quantity of fruit that city was entitled to, to relieve the situation.

We are now undergoing the same situation with respect to lemons, although the peak of the market has not been reached. California has an excellent crop of lemons now on the trees and the picking is going on heavily and there will be an ample supply for the winter need throughout the country.

During September the lemon market was the lowest average in the past fourteen years, which in itself did not warrant the shippers and growers to forward unusual supplies, notwithstanding which the record shows everything forwarded in a volume of 140 per cent for October as compared with October last year. Every arrangement is being made to keep the eastern market well supplied, especially in those localities where the epidemic is severe.

Samples of navels from Tulare county are being received in Los Angeles, and it is predicted that some shipments of the new crop will be made next week. This fruit is showing excellent color for this early in the season. The growers in Tulare county usually become a little excited this season of the year, but present indications warrant them in anticipating a season two weeks earlier than usual.

CAPTAIN GUERIN IN RACE FOR ASSEMBLY

Captain Guerin of Pomona, candidate for the assembly in the 68th district, was in Covina Monday in the interests of his campaign.

Captain Guerin, who has held the office of city attorney for the city of Pomona for the past eight years, and at the present time is grand vice chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of California, has just returned from a trip through the northern portion of California. He states that the sentiment in the north is rapidly crystallizing in favor of a dry state and with a normal vote cast in the south the proponents of "bone-dry California" can be assured of a sweeping victory.

While in the north he received by telegram a commission in the judge advocate's department of the United States army, of which he feels deeply proud, as he was selected from a list of over 2000 applicants from this state. The appointment is a recognition of the ability of the appointee, and is a splendid endorsement for him as a law-maker and legislator.

Dr. Z. T. Malaby,

GUERIN IN THE ASSEMBLY RACE TO WIN

Editor Argus:

Please deny emphatically the report being circulated by interested parties that I have withdrawn as a candidate for the Assembly in the 68th District.

I am in the race to the finish.

Respectfully yours,

MISS KATHERINE PHILLEO WEDS JOHN MILLER JONES

A quiet wedding of much interest to her many friends in Covina was solemnized in the beautiful Church of the Angels in Garvanza, on Wednesday when Miss Katherine Philleo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Philleo, became the bride of John Miller Jones of Woodland, California.

The wedding took place at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, the Episcopal ceremony being used, and the rector, the Reverend Thompson, officiating.

The bride wore a tailored traveling suit of overseas blue silvertone cloth and carried a bouquet of orchids and cyclamen. There were no attendants, and only the members of the immediate family were present to witness the ceremony. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jones left by automobile for their home, which will be in Woodland, where Mr. Jones has a ranch.

Miss Philleo is a graduate of the Covina high school, and of the University of California. She has been spending the past few years as an instructor in the Pasadena high school. She is a sister of Robert Philleo, formerly the cashier of the First National Bank of Covina, but now an ensign in the navy, stationed on the eastern coast.

EXTENSIVE WALNUT GROWER DIES AT EASTERN HOME

For many years, the death of Mr. Geo. L. Warren, at his residence in that city.

Mr. Warren owns extensive walnut interests in West Covina, his seventy-acre, ten-year-old budded walnut ranch being at the corner of California street and Sunset boulevard. He leaves a widow and two sons.

His interests here have been in the charge of J. W. Larmer, who also owns valuable property in the West Covina district. The deceased took great interest in his walnut property, expecting to retire from active business in the east and make California his home for his declining years.

WOMEN WORKING TO ELECT SUPERIOR JUDGE AVERY

Assurance of their active support in his campaign as a candidate to succeed himself has been received during the last few days by Superior Judge Russ Avery from the prominent men and women in cities throughout the county.

Not only have business men and those in the legal profession, who have come in contact with Judge Avery's work on the bench, offered their support, but prominent women of the county have urged voters of their sex to vote for him.

A letter signed by many leading clubwomen and addressed to women voters declared that "We are convinced of his unquestionable honor and personal integrity, his legal attainments and general fitness for judicial service."

Resolutions adopted by practically every attorney in Long Beach recommended that Judge Avery and other incumbent judges be retained in office at the final election November 5th.

INFLUENZA SITUATION SAME AS LAST WEEK.

The influenza situation in the territory comprising the Covina union high school district is very similar to last week. Some thirty new cases have been reported, but all of light character. Of these, only four are within the city limits.

The local health officer, Dr. Lepoy, states that he proposes to cooperate fully with the county health board, as he believes that only by the restriction of all public gatherings can we hope to prevent the spread and increase of the disease. Unless a marked improvement in local conditions is apparent it is not probable that schools, churches or theaters will be opened for another week.

CONGRESSMAN RETURNS FROM EUROPEAN BATTLE FRONT

Congressman Charles H. Randall, now seeking re-election in the Ninth Congressional district, was in Covina Wednesday evening. On account of the ban on public speaking Mr. Randall had to content himself with shaking hands with a number of his personal friends and admirers who gathered to welcome him on his return from the western front in Europe.

He has been one of a Congressional party that went to Europe to see firsthand the conditions as they existed along the battle front, from Italy to the North Sea. The returned Congressman has an interesting story to relate. He has dined with royalty, crept through the trenches to within seventy-five feet of the German line, had the rear wheel of his auto, in which he was riding, shot off by a German shell, rode over London in a bombing plane and visited Admiral Rodney, on his flagship, in the North Sea.

In speaking of his dinner with King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, he said, "this monarch is possibly the most democratic ruler in Europe and our meal was of the plainest fare, butterless bread and sugarless coffee. These two luxuries are today seldom seen upon the table in any of the European countries. This is especially true in England. The civilian population, from the highest to the lowest, deny themselves of every luxury for the fighting man at the front."

The party was also entertained by King Albert of Belgium, the commander of that gallant remnant of an army which at that time held sixteen miles of the western front, near the channel.

"The magnitude of the British Grand Fleet," said the Congressman, "can hardly be conceived. For instance, the British ships of the dreadnaught type in single line formation, 500 yards apart, would extend for a distance of seventy-eight miles." It is this fleet which has successfully bottled up the German fleet during the past four years, making possible the safe transportation of two million fighting men from America.

When asked as to the part America was playing in this war, Congressman Randall said, "ask any Frenchman, and he will tell you that had it not been for the two million of Americans Germany would today be in Paris dictating the terms of peace. America has surprised the world by her apparent unlimited resources, and the brilliant and impetuous fighting qualities of her soldiers, as shown at the Marne, Chateau Thierry and other glorious battlefields which have turned the tide of battle with such rapidity, giving us victory within our grasp. The American soldier is recognized in Europe as the most brilliant and dashing fighter in the world."

Congressman Randall is making a flying trip over his district prior to the election on Tuesday next.

INFLUENZA CLAIMS HENRY WALTER KENDALL

The death occurred in Los Angeles on Friday of last week of Henry Walter Kendall, from influenza. The deceased, who was 24 years of age, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kendall of Irwindale.

TWO COVINA BOYS WOUNDED

Letters were received later in the week containing the information that the wreck occurred in the early hours of the morning while the men were sleeping, eight cars going over a fifty-foot embankment. While a number of men were injured, there were no fatalities. Both the Covina boys escaped with a few minor bruises and the loss of their personal equipment.

Work For California Dry

(Edited by Covina Temperance League, Mary M. Coman, Chairman Publicity Committee.)

VOTE CALIFORNIA DRY—BONE-DRY!

Next Tuesday is one of the most critical days in the history of California, for according to the vote of the citizens, the future and reputation of the Golden State depend.

There are many honest, conscientious voters who believe that "a half loaf is better than none," and so have thought to vote "yes" on the liquor regulation or Rominger bill. Five years ago such action would have been both commendable and wise, but today, when the world crisis demands the best conditions, there is no need of half-way measures or regulations. It is too late to regulate either the kaiser or booze—both have proved themselves utterly unworthy of trust and further existence and should be simply annihilated and put, once for all, out of the way of civilized progress and Christian advance. Therefore, for the thoughtful man or woman, there is but one thing to do in the matter next Tuesday, and that is to vote squarely "no" on amendment number one, and "yes" on number twenty-two. It makes no difference whether you are Republican or Democrat, Prohibitionist, Anti-Saloon Leaguer, Dry Federationist, or W. C. T. U., or a happy combination of any one or more, the one issue for you, in the name of Christianity, civilization and decency, is California dry, and not one-third or one-half dry.

Vote early and vote right—for a clean state, the home, and a chance for our children. "No" on number one; "yes" on twenty-two."

WHAT IS TO BE DONE WITH THE GRAPES?

During the preceding state dry campaigns there have been thousands of honest voters who were puzzled over the big question of justice to the many grape growers and vineyardists, whose little or big all was invested in their vines. To vote the state dry meant to ruin, perhaps thousands of men, who had been encouraged and instructed in their work by both the state and federal government grape and wine experts. And many voted against the bone-dry measure on this account, even though common sense argued for prohibition of the traffic which exacts such a terrible toll in lives and money. But in this present campaign this last plan can hold no longer, for the University of California answers fully and most satisfactorily this argument. A process of making grape sugar (and sugar is the greatest need of the world today) and sirup has been perfected, after exhaustive experimentation, which can produce from the grapes now used in wine-making, sirup and sugar, equivalent to 40,000 tons, at a present value of over $8,000,000. The university authorities further assert that the manufacture of grape sirup offers a most practical and patriotic solution of disposing of 250,000 tons of grapes now used in the making of intoxicants. The experimental sirup put upon the open market met at once with public approval.

Three experts, working independently, arrived at the same result in their experimentation, and they further declare that this lighter and heavier sirup and the sugar can be made by the present wineries, with but slight change and expense to their present equipment. The value of the sirup will permit of good profit to vineyardists, sirup-makers and distributors. A plan has been suggested by the university authorities that the wineries, with their present plants, extract the juice from the grapes, since for this preliminary process they are already equipped, and that the beet sugar factories, in their idle months, concentrate and condense the juice into sirup and sugar. Practical methods of keeping the juice for months after crushing have been perfected and no detail has been neglected.

Added to this new plan, the wider use of grape juice, jam and jelly, raisins, a broader distribution of the ripe fruit, with the use of grape vinegar, and there can no longer be any widespread loss to the grower should the state go bone-dry.

SIXTEEN TO ONE.

The question of revenue need not trouble any thoughtful voter, since it has been repeatedly proven that for each and every dollar brought in by booze, sixteen are taken out of the pockets of the voters, in taxes, to even up the destruction and cost of the results of the traffic.

Vote "no" on number one! Vote "yes" on number twenty-two! Vote early! Do your duty as a Christian and a patriot. Vote bone-dry!

The most important news in Red Cross circles this week is the request of the Los Angeles chapter that the annual meeting and election of officers of the local chapter be held on Wednesday next.

In accord with this order, notices have been sent out to the effect that the annual meeting will be held at the headquarters on Citrus avenue, Wednesday, Nov. 6, at 7 p.m. At this time officers and directors for the ensuing year will be elected. Every member of the Red Cross is entitled to a vote.

This organization is run on the most democratic lines. The officers who have served so efficiently during the past year are as follows:

W. H. Collins, president; Mrs. W. M. Griswold, first vice-president; Mrs. C. A. Leighton, second vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Groom, secretary; Mrs. W. P. Nye, treasurer; Mrs. Wm. Bowring, purchasing agent; Mrs. E. G. Prather, financial chairman; J. N. Wilson, Jerome Reynolds, F. W. Gail, Rev. J. W. Utter, Miss Claire Sanborn, William Sterling, and C. S. Beardsley, directors.

A meeting of the directors was held Tuesday evening at the Red Cross rooms, to transact special business dealing with the forthcoming annual meeting. The regular monthly routine business was also transacted.

A CORRECTION.

Special attention is called to the correction that the soldiers' Christmas packages must not exceed two pounds and fifteen ounces in weight. Last week through an error it was announced that the limit was twenty-five pounds. The labels are beginning to arrive at headquarters and an appeal is made that all packages be mailed early.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

To the Stockholders of the CHARTER OAK CITRUS ASSOCIATION:

In compliance with the order of the State Medical Department as now evoked, and to carry out the idea of "safety first," your board of directors have authorized the postponement of the annual meeting until the first Friday in December, namely December 6th, 1918.

Yours truly,
R. H. MIDDLETON,
Secretary.
By order of Board of Directors,
October 25, 1918.

TEMPERANCE WOMEN VOUCH FOR ATTORNEY GUERIN

Pomona W. C. T. U. went on record at its meeting in the First Methodist church Thursday afternoon as vouching for the temperance principles of City Attorney Guerin, candidate for the office of California state assemblyman from this district, and for his intention to favor the California dry measure and the ratification of the national prohibition amendment.

At the recent meeting of the union, at which Mr. Guerin explained the amendments for the women, he expressed himself as confident that the national prohibition amendment will carry, and that once the people of the country have tried it out and found its benefits that it will prove generally satisfactory. The California dry amendment, too, he believes will be adopted. In any event, he thinks it better to work to this end as "the half loaf better than none" theory does not appeal to him, especially when there are such bright prospects for getting the "whole loaf."—Pomona Progress.

LEADING ATTORNEY SUPPORTS STEVENS FOR JUDGESHIP

Henry O'Melveny, one of Los Angeles' foremost attorneys, is enthusiastically supporting the candidacy of Henry J. C. Stevens for the superior bench. In an open letter to the voters of Los Angeles county he says:

"Upon the voters of Los Angeles county will devolve upon the 5th of November the selecting of seven judges of the superior court. In the common, every-day affairs of life we are apt to overlook the importance of this position. The judiciary constitutes the bulwark of our freedom. All that man has, even life itself, may come under the disposition of one of the judges of the superior court. It is therefore of the utmost importance that men of the highest character and ability should be selected. Much of the congestion of our courts and the necessity of multiplying our appellate courts arises from the lack of competency upon the part of our trial judges.

"In asking for your suffrage for Mr. Henry J. Stevens, one of the candidates, it can be asserted with great confidence that, by reason of his experience as a trial lawyer, his remarkable intellectual endowment, his thorough knowledge of the law, his election will be a safe investment for the people of this county, inasmuch as his administration of that position would be a great saving of time, labor and money to litigants, and consequently to the tax-payers in this county.

"People complain that the ablest men in the legal profession are unwilling to accept nominations for judgeships, or even accept appointment to that position. To the people at this time if given the opportunity to elect to that position one of the ablest lawyers in Southern California, a man who is ideally qualified to fill the position. It is a matter of public duty to advocate his candidacy; it is clearly a matter of public duty to elect him."

LOCAL ATTORNEYS SUPPORT JUDGE JAMES C. RIVES

We are often asked by our friends for assistance in selecting candidates for judicial offices. At the coming election there are ten candidates for seven full term vacancies. The probate business of this county has been conducted by Judge James C. Rives for the past twelve years, and he has built up a system of work and an organization of assistants that have made the probate department a model, and have enabled it to keep pace, without confusion or delay, with the tremendously rapid increase of business in this county during the last decade.

His intimate familiarity with the condition and history of the great number of estates, guardianships and trusts now pending before him, many of which will with their complications be in court for several years, as well as his marked aptitude for the work, are such a distinct asset to the parties interested and to the public that we feel moved to recommend that Judge Rives be made the first choice among the candidates for superior judge.

SERMONETTES FROM PASTORS OF LOCAL EVANGELICAL CHURCHES

To the Members and Friends of the Presbyterian Church:

I very much appreciate the courtesy of the local press in permitting me this opportunity of reminding you of your duty as a citizen on next Tuesday.

The most important issue before us is that of the prohibition of the liquor traffic. In the first place, we should use every rightful power to elect a governor, a lieutenant governor and assemblyman in favor of ratification of the national prohibition amendment.

All who love California and are jealous of her honor want her to be one of the white states to help put the abominable liquor traffic forever out of business.

Governor Wm. D. Stephens and C. C. Young are unqualifiedly in favor of prohibition and ratification.

There are two amendments dealing with the liquor traffic to be voted on.

No. 1 handles it with gloves. It does not deserve gentle treatment. Vote "no" on No. 1.

Amendment No. 22 originated with the dry forces and should receive the support of every Christian voter. Vote "yes" on No. 22.

Vote early and vote right.
C. A. FOREMAN, Pastor.

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

Since I can not speak to you in church on Sunday, allow me to exhort you in public print to do your utmost on election day to make the state and nation dry.

We must elect men who will be true to the dry cause at Sacramento and Washington. Fortunately our candidates for congress, Mr. Randall, who has served so well at Washington, and Mr. Flowers, who also pledges himself to national prohibition, may both be trusted in this matter. Nor can we doubt that Mr. Miller, who won his nomination in the 68th assembly district by his espousal of prohibition, and Mr. Guerin, who pledges himself to state and national prohibition, may both be trusted to serve us well.

But Mr. Stephens and Mr. Young are the only candidates for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor, respectively, who are consistently pledged to the dry cause, and we will lose much if we fail to elect either man, so it is highly important that we vote for them. We should vote "no" on amendment No. 1, which proposes "regulation" of the liquor traffic, and "yes" on amendment No. 22, which proposes "prohibition" of the same. We should vote as early as convenient, and do our best to secure other dry votes. We may never again face an election which has in it such possibilities of good to America and to mankind, and failure to do our duty will be treason to a great cause.

F. B. COWGILL,
Pastor Methodist Church.

Inasmuch as our churches are to be closed for another Sunday, I am glad to avail myself of the courtesy of the Argus and use a few lines of the printed page for a little preaching. Perhaps some may feel like reading this in the course of their home worship, next Sunday morning.

"Play the man for your people and the cities of your God." Election day approaches. To vote is the supreme duty for the week. The supreme question is prohibition. Not forgetting the election of good men to office will assure the ratification of the national constitutional amendment, let us press prohibition for our own state.

There are many reasons for doing this. Primarily, of course, there is the old fundamental reason—that the liquor traffic is a crime and a curse, that it has wrecked more homes, blighted more hopes, broken more hearts, caused more tears, more sin, more want, more terror in the heart of children, more agony in the soul of woman, more black despair in those who were once strong men, than all the other dark forces that have cursed the children of men. Therefore if we can do anything to thwart or defeat it, let us do it.

Make your slogan, "Vote 'no' on one; vote 'yes' on twenty-two." Find arguments for this elsewhere in this paper. This is the time to play the man, to work, pray and vote for another victory for righteousness and for God.
A. WATSON BROWN,
Pastor Baptist Church.

No one in our community would be content to rest under either one of these charges.

But listen: If I do not go to the polls and vote on next Tuesday, where I have the right and privilege, am I not a slacker? Is a man not a slacker who fails to help our government win this war?

Last night a man on the street was condemning our government for allowing the liquor traffic to continue its ravages, when a bystander interrupted by saying: "Yes, but we are the government." This stopped the oratory. If we as voters are a part of the government and we fail to act our part when a critical time like this is upon us, are we not slackers?

But suppose I go to the polls and vote to perpetuate a business which destroys 60 million bushels of foodstuffs per year, which is needed by our soldiers to win the war, am I not pro-German? If a thousand incendiaries should scatter themselves throughout the United States and burn up 60 million bushels of foodstuffs in a year, would they not be branded as pro-German? If I have the power in my hand to stop that criminal destruction and do not—am I not a pro-German?

Think it over. Then go to the polls and cast your vote for men from governor down who are in favor of state and national dry amendments.

"Now here's a chance to hit the Hun, Oh voter now be true,
Vote "No," amendment No. one
And "Yes" on twenty-two.
Yours for victory,
J. W. UTTER.

SUPERVISOR JOHN J. HAMILTON TO HIS CONSTITUENTS.

To My Constituents:

Two months ago, notwithstanding an eleven-hour attack on my good name by my opponent, you gave me the highest vote in the primaries and the highest vote in each of the six parties.

Your confidence in me was the confidence of knowledge. You knew me. You knew that I had faithfully served you and kept every promise. I had stood by you in reorganizing your county administration and putting it on a business basis, in opposing higher taxes, in fighting the battle for flood control against the old court-house ring, and whenever you needed a champion at the Hall of Records, you stood by me. You won a decisive victory over the machine politicians who sought my overthrow.

My opponent was disappointed. He had expected his attack on me the night before election to eliminate me and put himself in the highest place. He has renewed and kept up the calumnies against me. Ignoring the fact that every accusation against me in the superior court a year ago had been investigated for four long weeks by a jury of my peers, presided over by a man whom the people are about to elevate to the state supreme bench, and that Judge Wilbur and an impartial jury found that every charge was false, Mr. Cogswell has brought out the charges again as if they were true, and is today circulating them.

Against this campaign of calumny, treachery and falsehood—aimed not to give the voters a true conception of the quality of my service, but to deceive them and lead them to believe white was black—I have made an absolutely clean campaign of appeals to my record. I have not made one assault on the reputation of Mr. Cogswell. My only criticism has been a protest against his eleven-hour stab in my back.

I now ask your approval, good men and women of the first supervisor district, of the work I have done for you; and your emphatic, crushing rebuke of the kind of campaign Prescott F. Cogswell has made.

Having stood by you in every emergency, I ask you to stand by me next Tuesday, and give me the opportunity I earnestly covet of carrying forward the work of making the county government of Los Angeles county a model of what a great business establishment should be.

Faithfully yours,
JOHN J. HAMILTON.

POSTSCRIPT—(Thursday Morning.)

I have just learned that Mr. Cogswell intends to propound a list of catch questions to me in most if not all of the nineteen weekly newspapers of the district, putting these questions in the last issues before the election, so that I cannot see the questions till the papers are out on Friday, or get my answers into the same papers until next week, after the ballots are cast. There are daily papers in only four cities in the district; and if my answers appear in them, they will not reach the same readers. If Mr. Cogswell had wanted me to have an opportunity to answer his questions, he could have published them last week, and I could have published my answers this week. How do you like Mr. Cogswell's kind of fair play?

J. L. Haley spent last week-end with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, in Brawley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blair of Akron, Ohio, spent a few days this week at Hotel Covina.

Ex-President Taft Says:

"Is it necessary for the country's welfare that he (President Wilson) should be absolute ruler of this nation for the two years ensuing from March 4 next? That is the premise upon which the soundness of his appeal, in its ultimate analysis, must rest. Do we need, during the life of the next congress, a dictator? One who knows the facts of this war and our part in it, and who loves liberty and popular government, must answer no.

"But for the Republican congressional support that he has had in this war he could not have conducted it to its present status. He charges Republican leaders with seeking to take the choice of policy and conduct of this war out of his hands by putting it under instrumentalities of their own choosing. The difficulty of this statement is that it is not true, the mere mention of the name of Julius Kahn of California and his work in congress, answers every reflection the President makes on the Republican minority.

Ex-President Roosevelt Says:

Replying to the statement issued by President Wilson, asking that only Democrats be sent to congress:

"If the President of the United States is right in the appeal he has just made to the voters, then you and I, my hearers, have no right to vote at this election or to discuss public questions while the war lasts. If his appeal is justified, only that faction of the Democratic party which accepts towards the President the rubber-stamp attitude of complete servility is entitled to control congress.

"What does Mr. Wilson mean when he speaks of Republican leaders as being, although 'pro-war,' yet 'anti-administration?' He means that when the war department was administered with utter inefficiency they investigated the matter and insisted upon efficiency. He means that when they found that nothing effective was being done in shipbuilding they insisted that the work be speeded up. He means that when they found that six hundred million dollars had been spent for airplanes and yet that not an airplane had reached our soldiers at the front, they insisted that our soldiers should get the airplanes for which the people had paid.

"Unconditional Surrender"

Shall we abolish Autocracy in Germany and establish it in America?
Shall we spill American blood and spend American billions to give German people a Representative Government and in so doing destroy our own?

Vote for the Republican Nominee MONTAVILLE FLOWERS

Who Stands For Republican Principles

That Germany must disgorge its plunder; must restore the ruined homes of France and Belgium; must re-equip the factories she has demolished; must replace the British and American ships, illegally sunk, with vessels from her own fleet, or pay for them with German gold.

That while peace terms are being dictated, German cities shall be occupied by American and Allied troops; German soldiers shall lay down their arms; German forts be dismantled and German submarines be handed over to the victors.

The Republican platform demands that Germany shall confess to the world in terms which all may understand, the basis of Peace is "Unconditional Surrender" on Germany's part.

No single brain is wise enough or big enough to direct the destiny of America. Our constitution provides a congress—the representative will of the people—as a co-partner with the presidency.

Now is not the time to fill our congress with submissive tools, but to elect the biggest and brainiest statesmen in all the land.

Montaville Flowers is needed in Washington—a big man, a fair man, an enlightened man. The nation needs him; the state needs him; the ninth congressional district needs him.

Send him to Washington with the biggest majority ever accorded a congressman from this district.

UNITED WAR CAMPAIGN OPENS HEADQUARTERS IN CITY HALL

During the coming week an organization will be perfected for conducting the united war work campaign in Covina, which will open November 11 and continue until Monday, November 18. The local campaign will be in charge of J. L. Matthews as chairman, assisted by C. E. Crawford, secretary, and Mrs. W. P. Nye as assistant secretary. The headquarters will be in the offices of the city trustees, on Citrus avenue.

There are seventy districts in Los Angeles county, each with a chairman who is entirely responsible for the conducting of the campaign in his district. Each district headquarters will be visited each day of the campaign by a representative of the executive headquarters in Los Angeles. An important announcement has been made to the effect that when a resident of this district makes a subscription through his or her employer or place of business, which may be outside of the district in which he lives, his subscription will be credited to his or her district. This means that every district will receive full credit for the subscription of all residents.

The campaign is for $1,211,500 from Los Angeles county for the use and service of the seven great war work organizations. Each one of these organizations recognized and commended by the national government, is doing its bit to make our boys in France fit and ready to carry forward the work of the American army in their drive to Berlin. Comprising these seven war work organizations are the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Jewish Welfare Board, the Salvation Army, the National Catholic War Council, the American Library Association, and the War Camp Community Organization.

The allotment for Covina will be $4250. This united war work campaign is to maintain and extend the great work which the seven welfare organizations co-operating in this war work are doing, to bring some small measure of comfort and happiness to the soldier. The nation has pledged itself to raise $170,500,000. Every dollar will go toward furnishing the soldiers and sailors with home comforts—books to read, confections, tobacco and other articles necessary to their comfort and pleasure. A contented soldier makes a real fighting man. The morale of the American soldier is the highest in the world. This is because he knows that the people at home are back of him to a man.

It is through the generosity of a loyal, patriotic people that these organizations have been able to serve our boys in France and at home. It is to enable these organizations to continue this wonderful work that every day is bringing peace nearer and nearer, that it is now the duty of every citizen of Los Angeles county to make the best subscription he or she can make the first day of the drive, November 11th.

(Political Advertising.) ENGINEER REAGAN ENDORSES HAMILTON

To the people of Covina and vicinity: Covina, Glendora, Charter Oak, Baldwin Park, and the valuable and rapidly improving citrus and walnut districts tributary thereto owe the temporary protection they now enjoy from flood damage to the appropriations secured for them by Hon. John J. Hamilton, their supervisor.

More important, by far, however, is the financial provision of hundreds of thousands of dollars in the flood control plan for permanently harnessing the San Dimas canyon storm waters and the floods of the Big and Little Dalton, Walnut and other washes and San Gabriel river cone.

The people should never forget that but for Supervisor Hamilton's able leadership in the Los Angeles County Flood Control Association and the Board of Supervisors, they would now be back where they were when he became supervisor, with no relief in sight. (Signed:) J. W. REAGAN, Chief Engineer Los Angeles County Flood Control District.

HARDWARE MAN STRICKEN WITH "FLU" ON DUCK HUNT

H. F. Larkin, hardware man of this city, accompanied by A. W. Feist, local contractor, and J. L. Haley, left Friday by auto for the Imperial valley on a duck hunt. The party returned home on Tuesday evening with A. W. Feist at the wheel of the machine. Larkin was stricken on the return trip with a genuine case of influenza, and Feist, who had never before driven a Ford, was compelled to drive the car after leaving San Diego. Haley was also taken ill before leaving the valley. Larkin is still confined to his residence by the malady.

Miss Mary Hornecker is entertaining this week her cousin, Miss Mildred Hornecker, from Wyoming, who is spending the winter in Southern California. Last evening a Halloween party at which Miss Hornecker was the guest of honor was held in the Walnut wash, a wiener bake being one of the events of the evening. The other guests were the Misses Ethel McNelly, Mary Funk, Pearl Middaugh, Louise Rush, and Frances Ward.

The location of the polling place for Covina country precinct No. 2 will be at the residence of Mrs. Alice Burpee, Rowland avenue, west of Citrus avenue. For years the polling place for this precinct has been in the barn at the rear of the residence of B. M. Given, East Puente street.

(Political Advertising.) FLOWERS RECEIVES MANY ENDORSEMENTS

After a careful investigation of the record of Montville Flowers, Monrovia rancher who is the Republican nominee for congress in the ninth district, some of the leading prohibition workers in the territory have come out with an endorsement of Flowers' candidacy, in which they declare that if Montville Flowers is elected to the next congress, he can be depended upon to work for and support all temperance measures that come before congress. The endorsement says:

"The undersigned, being intensely interested in the furtherance of all dry measures which may come before the next congress from the ninth district, if elected, can be depended upon to work for and support all temperance measures that come before congress."

"We have familiarized ourselves with the record of this gentleman on the temperance question and have found that he has been for a bone-dry nation, and has been a leader in presenting the cause to the public audience wherever he has had an opportunity to do so."

"We therefore believe Mr. Flowers is a man well qualified to fill the office he seeks in an intelligent and statesmanlike manner."

This is signed by C. D. Lusby, cashier of the Glendale Savings Bank, W. Darwin Root, instructor in literature in the Glendale union high school, Harry L. Howe, vice-principal of the Glendale union high school, Clarence E. Kimlin, manager of the Glendale sanitarium.

Mr. Flowers' record shows that he has been a teetotaler and an advocate of temperance and prohibition since signing the liquor pledge in a little stone school in Ohio when fifteen years of age. He has delivered no less than 3000 addresses in the interests of prohibition and wrote the plank on prohibition into the chautauqua movement in 1911.

VOTE "NO" SINGLE TAX MEASURE

"Vote 'No' on amendment number 19" has become the slogan of many thousands of earnest men and women in Southern California who have learned that this amendment No. 19, entitled "Land Values Taxation," is in reality a single tax measure, and that single tax advocates all over the United States have singled out California as the state on which to try the iniquitous theories of the socialistic single taxers at a time when such drastic measures are entirely uncalled for and would do great harm.

As it appears from the literature of the California single tax advocates, the movement this year is known as "The Great Adventure," and in all the literature sent out by them, these adventures on an unknown and uncharted sea declare that it is their intention to disrupt the whole financial system of the state of California, and throw it into chaos, because they believe that by so doing the owners of land out of use will have to relinquish their ownership, and everybody who wants land can have it for the taking.

The single taxers of California, a peculiar lot, distinguished from other single tax theorists by their tendency toward extreme socialism, assert that they would aid the war by putting people at work on millions of idle acres. But they do not say, nor do they perhaps care, where these people would get the buildings, implements, stock, or seed necessary to work the land, if they are deprived of the possibility of borrowing any money on the land.

By taxing land, and land only, the single taxers expect to raise all of the revenues necessary to carry on the government of the state of California, the counties, municipalities, school and irrigation districts, and all other public institutions. More than one hundred million dollars would have to be raised annually in this way. Not only that, but the change would have to be effected in less than sixty days, for the amendment calls for the new order to be put into practice on January 1, 1919. It is absurd, and the people of California, now awake to the situation, are going to vote it down with a tremendous majority against amendment No. 19, the single tax measure, entitled "Land Values Taxation."

JUDGE THOMAS P. WHITE FOR SUPERIOR JUDGE

Probably no other campaign of this election has aroused the interest in all sections of the county created by the activities of the friends of Judge

Thomas P. White in their efforts to secure the election of their candidate to the superior bench.

The fact that Judge White was nominated by the people with such a flattering vote at the primaries, placing him in sixth place, has aroused the enemies of Judge White's strong, virile, humanitarian administration of justice so that they seek through an insidious and invective campaign of anonymous letters and attacks upon his wide-spread publicity to prejudice the voters as to his record and accomplishments.

Enemies dare not attack Judge White's integrity, honesty, learning in the law or fitness for the position of superior judge, because his eminent qualifications for that office are indelibly written into the public records of his five years on the bench of Los Angeles city.

Judge White bases his candidacy for promotion to the superior bench solely on his previous public record on the bench as judge of the police court of the big city of Los Angeles for the last five years, during which time he has instituted reforms in procedure and in humane treatment of unfortunate cases that have won for him the united commendation of organizations and students of criminology and social service.

Judge White points to the fact that he has successfully handled more than 95,000 civil and criminal cases, and has thus acquired the judicial experience to cope with any legal problems, because the procedure and rules of evidence in the superior court are the same as in the justice's and police courts, the only difference being in the amount of money involved in civil cases and the penalty to be imposed in criminal cases.

RICHARDSON FOR STATE TREASURER

Friend Wm. Richardson has earned the right to a unanimous vote for state treasurer. He has proved his patriotism by placing the treasury on a currency basis and turning several million in gold over to the federal reserve bank. This has proved a help in winning the war. While having no authority in the policy of public expenditure, he has stood like a rock against illegal attacks upon the treasury.

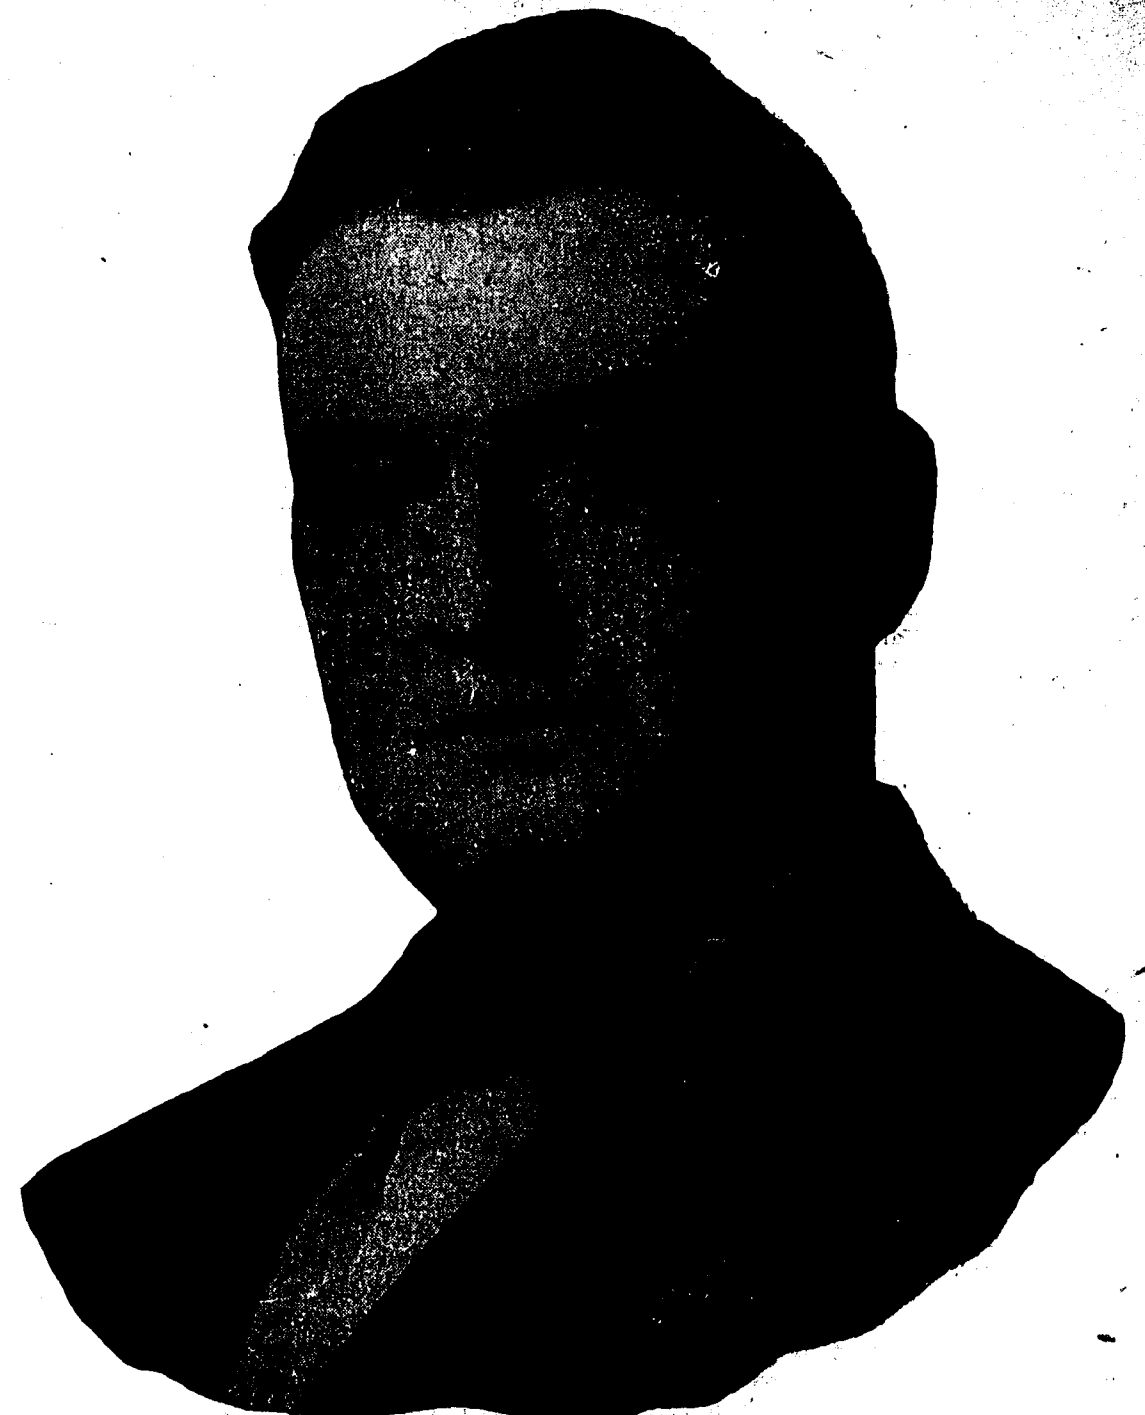

REWARD—

JUDGE

THOMAS P. WHITE

ELECT HIM

SUPERIOR JUDGE

JUDGE THOMAS P. WHITE

BECAUSE

1. He is eminently qualified by 5½ years ON THE BENCH as Judge of the Los Angeles Police Court, during which time he has capably handled more than 95,000 civil and criminal cases. Police Court cases differ from the procedure of the Superior Court ONLY to the extent that they involve lesser sums of money and penalties.
2. He is a graduate of the College of Law, of the University of Southern California, and was a successful attorney.
3. He conceived the idea of and established the "Women's Court" and made possible the Women's Industrial Home.
4. He established the Probation System in the Los Angeles City Courts.
5. He successfully fought the use of "Egg Pigeons" by the Police Department, and forced the abolition of that nefarious system.
6. His attitude on all cases involving illegal liquor traffic is 100%. He has been unflinching and all violators have met straight jail sentences for violation of the Gandler ordinance.
7. His Humanitarian Principles have endeared him to the People.
8. His Creative and Constructive Activities off the Bench have won the confidence and respect of the Public.

Certain insidious and combined interests have endeavored to discredit JUDGE WHITE'S candidacy and are hiding the true motives of their attack by criticizing his widespread advertising and general publicity, to which he is justly entitled and in which there has been no false statement or misrepresentation. THEY DARE NOT attack his qualifications. His record ON THE BENCH as Police Judge is an open book, and HE HAS MADE GOOD.

KEEP HIM ON THE BENCH BY ELECTING HIM

Will Supervisor Hamilton Please Answer?

Mr. John J. Hamilton,
Supervisor First District,
Pasadena, California.

Dear Sir:
In view of your letter in the last edition of this paper and your evident intention to make it appear, in your campaign documents and statements, that you have administered and safeguarded the Los Angeles county finances in a way that the voters should approve, it seems only fair that—in order that they may determine just how far this claim is justified by the facts—you give a straightforward and unequivocal answer to the following questions:

Is it not a fact that reports made by experts show that the deficit which you say existed before you became a member of the board of supervisors actually continued to pile up during the two years you had entire charge of the finances of the county, until it reached the enormous sum of $1,183,000?

Is it not a fact that no adequate plan for the reduction of this deficit was formulated until after the finance division was taken out of your hands and placed in charge of another member of the board?

Is it not a fact that during the two years of your term, in which you were in charge of the finance division, during which the deficit continued to grow steadily, the only solution you were able to devise was to transfer the greater part of the burden to the shoulders of the taxpayers in the form of an extra tax levy?

Is it not a fact that, in this connection you also proposed that the county employees be required to bear a considerable part of this deficit-burden, by submitting to the board a proposition that the salaries of these employees be reduced 25 per cent, for a certain period, and that this proposition did not provide for any reduction in your own salary?

Is it not a fact that, in spite of your claim that you were responsible for the installation of the new system of accounting in the county, experts from the state board of control were at work devising the new system nearly a year before you became a member of the board of supervisors?

How were the public's interests safeguarded by you in the case of the Claremont rock plant, which was established as a charity to relieve the distress of unemployed men? Did you, at any time previous to the board's order abolishing the plant, raise your voice in protest against a scale of wages that permitted these men to earn from $85 to $125 a month? If so, kindly give dates and pages of the record on which your protest appears?

How did you safeguard the public's interests by advocating the building of the Mint canyon road, to cost according to the road department, $600,000, and another by which the state should pay one-half, costing $800,000, totaling $1,400,000, of which the county was to pay $1,000,000 to build two parallel roads to the sparsely settled Antelope valley? These roads were intended solely for local travel, the highway over the ridge to Bakersfield being already built and forty miles shorter.

Is it not a fact that the rock crusher at San Dimas was first purchased by a private individual for $15,000, then sold to the county for $30,000, used eight years by the county and then charged to the flood control project for $20,000?

Is it not a fact that you declined to vote for the acceptance of the invitation of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce to the supervisors to take part in the great preparedness parade, as shown by the minutes of the board?

Is it not a fact that the 1817 grand jury, referring to the Mint canyon road, said this was one of the causes of the very large deficit in the county treasury. . . . and we feel that the action of the board of supervisors deserves very severe censure. . . . ?

The voters of the First District have it in their hands to say if they approve of this and other similar financial schemes with the county bankrupt to an extent unparalleled in any state.

PRESCOTT F. COGSWELL,
Candidate for supervisor at the election Nov. 5, 1918.

SCRIPTURE READINGS.

"Make it the first morning business of your life," says Ruskin, "to understand some part of the Bible clearly; and make it your daily business to obey it in all that you understand." Try this and you will discover it to be a wonderful soul-building exercise. The following questions may help you. They are based on the Gospel of Luke. Cut them out and put them for handy reference in your Bible or note book. They will be discussed next Wednesday evening (if the quarantine is over) at seven o'clock, in the open class in the Baptist church.

Friday: Read Luke's preface (1:1-4) and from it answer the following: To whom was the Gospel addressed? What were the sources of Luke's information? How many Gospels were written before? Read the preface in the Revised Version, if you have it, and note what changes are made. What evidence that Luke was a trustworthy historian? What was the object of his writing? Why, then, ought we to read the Gospel?

Saturday: Try to get a little better acquainted with Luke the man, so that he may become something more than a name to you. Philimon 24. What was his relation to Paul? Read carefully Col. 4:10-14, and determine whether Luke was a Jew or not. What was his business? Many evidences of this appear in his Gospel, for instance 22, 43, 44, 51. How did Paul regard him?

Sunday: Remembering that II Timothy was the last letter that Paul ever wrote, who was with him perhaps, to the very last? II Tim. 4:11. In Col. 4:14 and Philimon 24, who is coupled with Luke? Compare II Tim. 1:15 and 4:10 with 4:11, and make an estimate of Luke's character from the standpoint of fidelity. Is there any evidence of this quality in Luke's preface?

Monday: Luke is called the Gospel to the Greeks. What is the significance of Matthew tracing Jesus' ancestry back only to Abraham, Matt. 1:2, while Luke 3:38 carries it on to Adam? Did Luke assume that his readers would be familiar with the geography of Palestine? 8:26; 23:51. What parable, which Luke alone records, 10:25-37, shows that he appreciated Jesus' broad sympathy with those not Jews? From the racial standpoint, what does this parable teach? Do we need such teaching?

Tuesday: Luke emphasizes Jesus' ideal humanity. Notice this in his exclusive account of Jesus' boyhood (2:40-52). In what four ways did Jesus grow? How about this fourth-fold growth as an example for us?

Wednesday: Remember how women were looked down upon by both Jews and Gentiles and notice the prominence that Luke gives to the Master's sympathetic dealing with them. 8:1-3; 10:38-42; 13:10-21. Would 2:19 and 2:51 give a possible clue to one of Luke's informants?

Thursday: Dante calls Luke "the writer of the story of the gentleness of Christ." Learn to appreciate the truth of this by making a list of some of the incidents and teachings which Luke alone gives to Jesus' sympathy with the needy and unprivileged. 7:36-50; 18:9-14; 19:1-10; 15:1-32.

Where Fear to "Angels" Tread

On November 5th you will vote on an amendment that will vitally affect every person in California. It goes to the root of the health of at least 80 per cent of the total population of the State—the people who must measure their dollars to get out of life something more than a mere existence.

This Amendment is the Dental Bill that aims to destroy the power of the MINIMUM-FEE-FIXERS and place dentistry where it belongs—at the command of all the people.

Statistics show that only 20 per cent of the people go to dentists, except perhaps to have a painful, utterly decayed tooth extracted. The reason? Because the kind of dentistry that saves teeth, that makes good health possible, that prolongs life, has been placed beyond the reach of the great mass of people by the "ethical" dentist.

The so-called ethical dentist is bitterly opposed to this new law. At the first reading of it you will wonder why. You will see by its provisions that it raises the qualifications of

NOW—what are you, the voters of California, going to do on November 5th? Surely you'll not sit idly by; surely you'll vote yes on this amendment that gives the 80 per cent the same opportunities of health as the 20 per cent that can afford the cost of "ethical" treatment. Study the new measure carefully and you will realize that it should be made a law because it gives the large majority the things that 20 per cent now command.

membership on the State Board of Dental Examiners—that it does not lessen legitimate standards of dentistry, that it protects patients under the influence of anaesthetics, when they most need protection.

But if these provisions jar the sensitive nerves of the "ethical dentist", it is as nothing compared to the amendment's great unforgivable offense: It brings the fixed prices of the ethical dentist face to face with competition—and this is the ground where even angels must not tread. For if there is any one thing disastrous to the "ethical dentist"—it is this!

Perhaps you did not know that the "ethical dentists" have agreements as to MINIMUM FEES—not as to maximum. That is benignly left to the size of the patient's purse and the courage of the "ethical" practitioner. But don't take our word for this. Here's the best evidence in the case—an actual reproduction of the bill of minimum fees adopted by the most important chapter of the great State dental trust:

INFORMATION ON AMENDMENT NO. 9

WHY APPELLATE COURT CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT SHOULD BE ADOPTED.

Question: Which is the amendment?
Answer: It is senate constitutional amendment No. 45, which will appear as No. 9 on the official November ballot. It should not be confused with assembly constitutional amendment No. 61, which will be No. 6 on the official ballot.

Question: What is the object of amendment No. 9?

Answer: To add a new division of three justices to the present district courts of appeal in the Los Angeles and San Francisco districts, making six additional justices, thus doubling the working capacity of these two courts and enabling them to take care of the numerous smaller appealed cases.

Question: Does the proposed amendment create new courts?

Answer: No, it merely adds two divisions of three justices each to the present district court of Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Question: What additional expense will there be if amendment No. 9 is adopted?

Answer: Just the salaries of the six new justices. The two new divisions will occupy the present quarters of the district courts and use the same attaches and facilities.

Question: How will their salaries be paid?

Answer: By the whole state through taxation.

Question: What will be the additional burden upon the state?

Answer: An average for each county of about $700.

Question: Why is the adoption of this amendment necessary?

Answer: Because the present number of justices of the appellate courts, working to full capacity and assiduously, are unable to dispose of the work before the courts. We must have more justices, or the work must go undone and undecided cases allowed to pile up.

Question: Why are the appellate courts unable to keep up with their work?

Answer: Because, in brief, the number of appeals and other work before the appellate courts have gradually and continuously increased. The present courts were established by constitutional amendment in 1904. Since 1904 the population of California has increased sixty per cent; business of all kinds has almost trebled, and court work of all kinds, keeping pace, has doubled.

Question: Who proposed this amendment?

Answer: The legislature, of course. But it was proposed by the legislature in its present form because the members of the judiciary committees of the legislature had previously requested a committee of the California bar association to co-operate with them in preparing the amendment. The amendment, therefore, represents the best thought of the state on the subject, and is approved by the justices of the supreme court, representative lawyers, and the public generally.

Question: Why should the individual who has no litigation pending before the appellate courts, vote for this amendment?

Answer: The speedy termination of litigation is of first importance. The denial of prompt decision is ruinous to the parties in many cases, particularly where the parties have their all at stake. Justice delayed is justice denied, is an old saying, and it is true. Every voter must take sufficient interest in our courts to preserve them for himself, and to provide proper and sufficient ways and means to allow them to dispatch their business promptly and well. The hope of a delayed decision is the stock in trade of privilege. The little fellow, as a rule, is licked before he begins, if he is delayed for years in reaping the benefit of his successful litigation.

The Irwindale Miscellany club met at the home of Mrs. E. E. Harris on Puente street on Tuesday for an all-day sewing meeting. In the afternoon, Mr. J. L. Matthews gave a talk before the members on the amendments which will come before the people at the coming election, and a discussion followed. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. L. M. Swallow on East Puente street on the afternoon of November 12th.
